The class of January 1952
dedicates this book to all our hopes and dreams for the continued growth of East High School and in particular to the realization of the proposed auditorium which we have

Administrators

It may seem trite to say that your commencement represents only the beginning of many problems with which you will be confronted throughout your lives, but it is true and worth your serious consideration. Commencement removes you from the shelter not only of your "Alma Mater" but many other protecting influences. In many ways you will be "on your own".

Our best wishes go with you in your various adventures.

Roy L. Simmons

What you do immediately after graduation will have a far-reaching effect on your future happiness and success. Therefore it is my hope that now, while your ideals and ambitions are high, you will make your decisions.

Grace A. Martini

Aim for success and refuse to become discouraged and you are certain to reach your goal.

Russell N. Nyland

Senior Teachers

MISS GRACE LACY

Our busy artist homeroom teacher with her humor and friendliness has always been concerned for our welfare. To her our hearts are always open.

MISS PEARL MARKUS

We will remember her for her willingness to help us solve our problems and to join in our extracurricular activities to make them an added pleasure and success.

WILLIAM J. BOYD

We'll never forget his helpfulness and constructive suggestions in making our Senior Revue a success.

As long as we remember East, we'll remember "Bill Boyd" the teacher with personality plus who was always everyone's friend.

GREG CONLY

From the first day we entered East he treated the boys in his homeroom as men.

His willingness to help any boy through trouble or personal problems no matter how busy he was and his guiding hand extended to "his boys" has made our Mr. Conly a second father.

G. Conly

Tony*

Mantle Orator

*May you have the best of everything in life.
You're a real swell guy + a good dog. I'll always remember you.
Evelyn Kramer*

EVELYN, OUR MANTLE ORATOR

Since 1909, it has been the tradition at East High School for the 12A Mantle Orator to pass down a blue velvet cloak lined with gold to the 12B girl whose grades, activities and contributions to the school are symbolic of the highest ideals of the group.

This is not only the highest honor which an East High girl can attain, but it is also the most significant ceremony in the life of this school.

Evelyn Kramer, the January 1952 Mantle Orator was chosen because of her high qualifications. Throughout her three years at East, Evelyn has maintained a B+ average, and, in addition, she has served as a very capable office assistant, treasurer of the 12B class and president of the Laurean Literary Society. Evelyn has also given service beyond her own school by helping at the Board of Education.

Friendliness is the trait Evelyn is best known for. Simple and unassuming, her loyalty and integrity are beyond reproach. The blue and gold Mantle was bestowed upon her by Arlene Koporc at the June 1951 Commencement Program.

Although this Mantle has been passed down through many hands, its meaning has never changed. The girl who wears it speaks for her class at graduation time and proclaims the ideas and ideals of the seniors. She feels a humble pride in her honor because the Mantle has become symbolic of the glorious past and glowing future of "Old East High."

The Big Steps

Have you ever looked up a huge stairway and wondered how you were going to reach the top? Can you imagine then, how we, as bewildered 10B's, felt as we approached our new alma mater, East High, and thought of the long climb we would have to make in the next three years? Our thoughts were still of the junior highs we had left. There were 161 of us then who had come from Addison, Empire, Patrick Henry and Willson, each wondering what was in store for him.

The first toddling step toward our goal was taken as we went about making new friends at the 10B Mixer, and another when we began to participate in the activities offered us through the 10B activities ticket. It was with this ticket that we started to appreciate the opportunities at East High, to root for our teams, and most important of all, to become part of the East High family.

Our spirit became evident when Mr. Conly's homeroom placed first in the tax stamp drive, and Mr. Gilman's homeroom ran a close second. Members of our class got into the swing of things by joining the orchestra. Among the Blue and Gold musicians were Shirley Ables, Ruth Boyd, Russ Marxen, Shirley Schafer and La Veda Stamos. Others, such as Evelyn Kramer, Evelyn Pickel and Betty Schaser, started working in the school office.

At this time, the girls outshone the boys when it came to sports, for Pat Dreier and Ruth Stevens were named the "Queens of Swat" for their ability to "hit the horsehide." Mr. Conly's boys, however, kept in front in attendance and won the trophy for the semester. To complete our first uncertain steps, Ed Kilbane was elected sergeant at arms of the Student Council. The hardest part of the climb was over.

In the field of athletics, the boys retaliated in the 10A semester, and our Tony Fatica, Ed Kilbane and Jim Pae were named for the varsity football squad. These boys contributed their part when East started the season by defeating our old rival, Shaw, 7-6. The schedule ended with the Blue Bombers ranking third in Senate competition. The girls were in there too. When it came to intramural basketball, Miss Lacy's homeroom walked off with the championship of the school.

Our class wasn't lacking in scholarship, either, for 14 of us were named for special subject awards at the tenth grade Recognition Assembly. Dolores Bencina, Dolores Coco, James Czyzynski, Shirley Shafer, Betty Schaser and Gordon Ratliff were on the Honor Roll.

Ruth Boyd won the city-wide singing contest, and La Veda Stamos an award in the 1949 National Art Exhibit. Our class wasn't lacking talent, nor leadership, for that matter, for Ed Kilbane went a step further and was elected treasurer of the Student Council. Now, part way up the steps, it still looked like a long climb ahead.

During our junior year we endeavored to keep the pace we had started with. Each of us eagerly anticipated taking part in the Golden Jubilee Program to celebrate East High School's fiftieth birthday. We had had a sample of the spirit of the Jubilee the previous November when a "birthday party" was held in the auditorium. Here we met the man who had been the first principal of East, B. U. Rannells. Mr. Rannells made a permanent notch in our hearts that day as he looked out at us and greeted us in simple sincerity. In June, we were in a frenzy with 15,000 alumni expected to return to their alma mater. It was a great day for the East High family.

The Big Steps

Meanwhile, members of our class were excelling in their chosen activities. Ruth Boyd was named soloist for the Choral Club. A poetry bug had bitten Shirley Ables and her poem "My Morning Mirror" was published in Horizons.

Finishing up the winter sports, we found Walt Guzik, Tony Fischer and Jim Pae practicing and playing with the basketball squad. With the spring, came the track and baseball teams to cheer for. Ed Kilbane and Jim Pae were running it out for positions on the track team, while Walt Guzik was throwing curves and speed balls for the Blue Bombers.

Scholarship hadn't suffered as a result of too many activities, for eight of us were on the Honor Roll. This completed one more step toward the top.

After summer vacation, we returned to our 11A semester to find that Tony Fatica had been named captain of the 1950 football squad. Ed Kilbane, Jim Pae and Ken McIlvaine were teammates once again. These four boys were also the teammates of Gilbert, "Gibby," Kandrak who was seriously injured during one of the Senate football games. The spirit of East came through with flying colors when we raised more than $1,200 to defray medical expenses, and we were all happy in the knowledge that we had helped Gibby.

Another activity, bowling, was added to the list of extracurricular activities. Jim Czyzynski beat out Walt Guzik and George Roemich for high average in the newly formed inter-scholastic bowling league.

Mr. Conly's homeroom once again won the tax stamp drive by being the first to have their hotrod piloted to San Francisco.

The title role of the school operetta, "Erminie," was played by Ruth Boyd. Denos Pappas was also on the stage in another of the leading roles in this production.

Dolores Bencina, Lois Cattran, Sophie Gerakis, Walter Guzik, Johanna Leposky, Denos Pappas and Gordon Ratliff were on the Honor Roll. Betty Schaser and Denos Pappas were the first to represent our class in the National Honor Society. A backward glance now would show that a good part of the climb was over.

At the beginning of our senior year, Ed Kilbane presided over the Student Council. He had reached the top in this endeavor. But we had more than one leader, we had five more which the class elected. Jim Pae was the 12B president; Dolores Coco, vice president; Mary Ann Somich, secretary; Evelyn Kramer, treasurer; and James Czyzynski, sergeant at arms.

It was at this time that Mr. Stillinger left East High and the many, many friends he had here. He had left us but it was with the mutual understanding that memories would always bind us closely together. His successor, Mr. Russell H. Nyland, we were sure, would be as understanding and "as much on the job" as he.

A choice that was loudly approved by the class was Evelyn Kramer as Mantle Orator. Honors continued to pile up on our members now. Ruth Boyd, Dolores Coco, Walter Guzik and Evelyn Kramer were inducted into the National Honor Society.

Competition in all fields was still keen between the boys and the girls, and this time the "fair ladies" proved themselves stronger when Miss Markus's homeroom walked off with the attendance award.

The Big Steps

The boys had a full athletic load this semester. Walt Guzik and Ken McIlvaine will never forget the inspiring send off the whole school gave to the team when they went to Columbus to tackle the State Championship. The Ockermen were defeated 4-1, but not without a fight, you can be sure.

Our sights were also set for laurels when it came to track, and, with runners like Ed Kilbane, Jim Pae and Ken McIlvaine, our hopes were high. A new and fast addition to the team was Dick Korkan. Jim Pae's long legs took him to Columbus where he was ranked among the best track stars of the state.

The drama production for the semester was "Rebecca" with Fred Southwell playing a leading role. Realizing their youth was fleeing, members of our class became literary geniuses. This was to be proven with the publication of Horizons. Here we found Jim Pae's composition "What A Minute." had won first prize. Lois Cattran submitted four poems and Evelyn Pickel, a story, "Daddy's Girl."

Could it be true that we had just about reached the top? That the stairway we thought so high, had been climbed so safely and swiftly?

Almost at the top of our stairway of ideals, we chose Dolores Bencina to lead our 12A Class. Other officers elected were Betty Schaser, Secretary; Walter Guzik, Treasurer and Tony Fisher, Sergeant at Arms.

Our activities started early as heart, soul, and kitchen sink went into our big production, the Senior Revue, which we called "As the Years Go By."

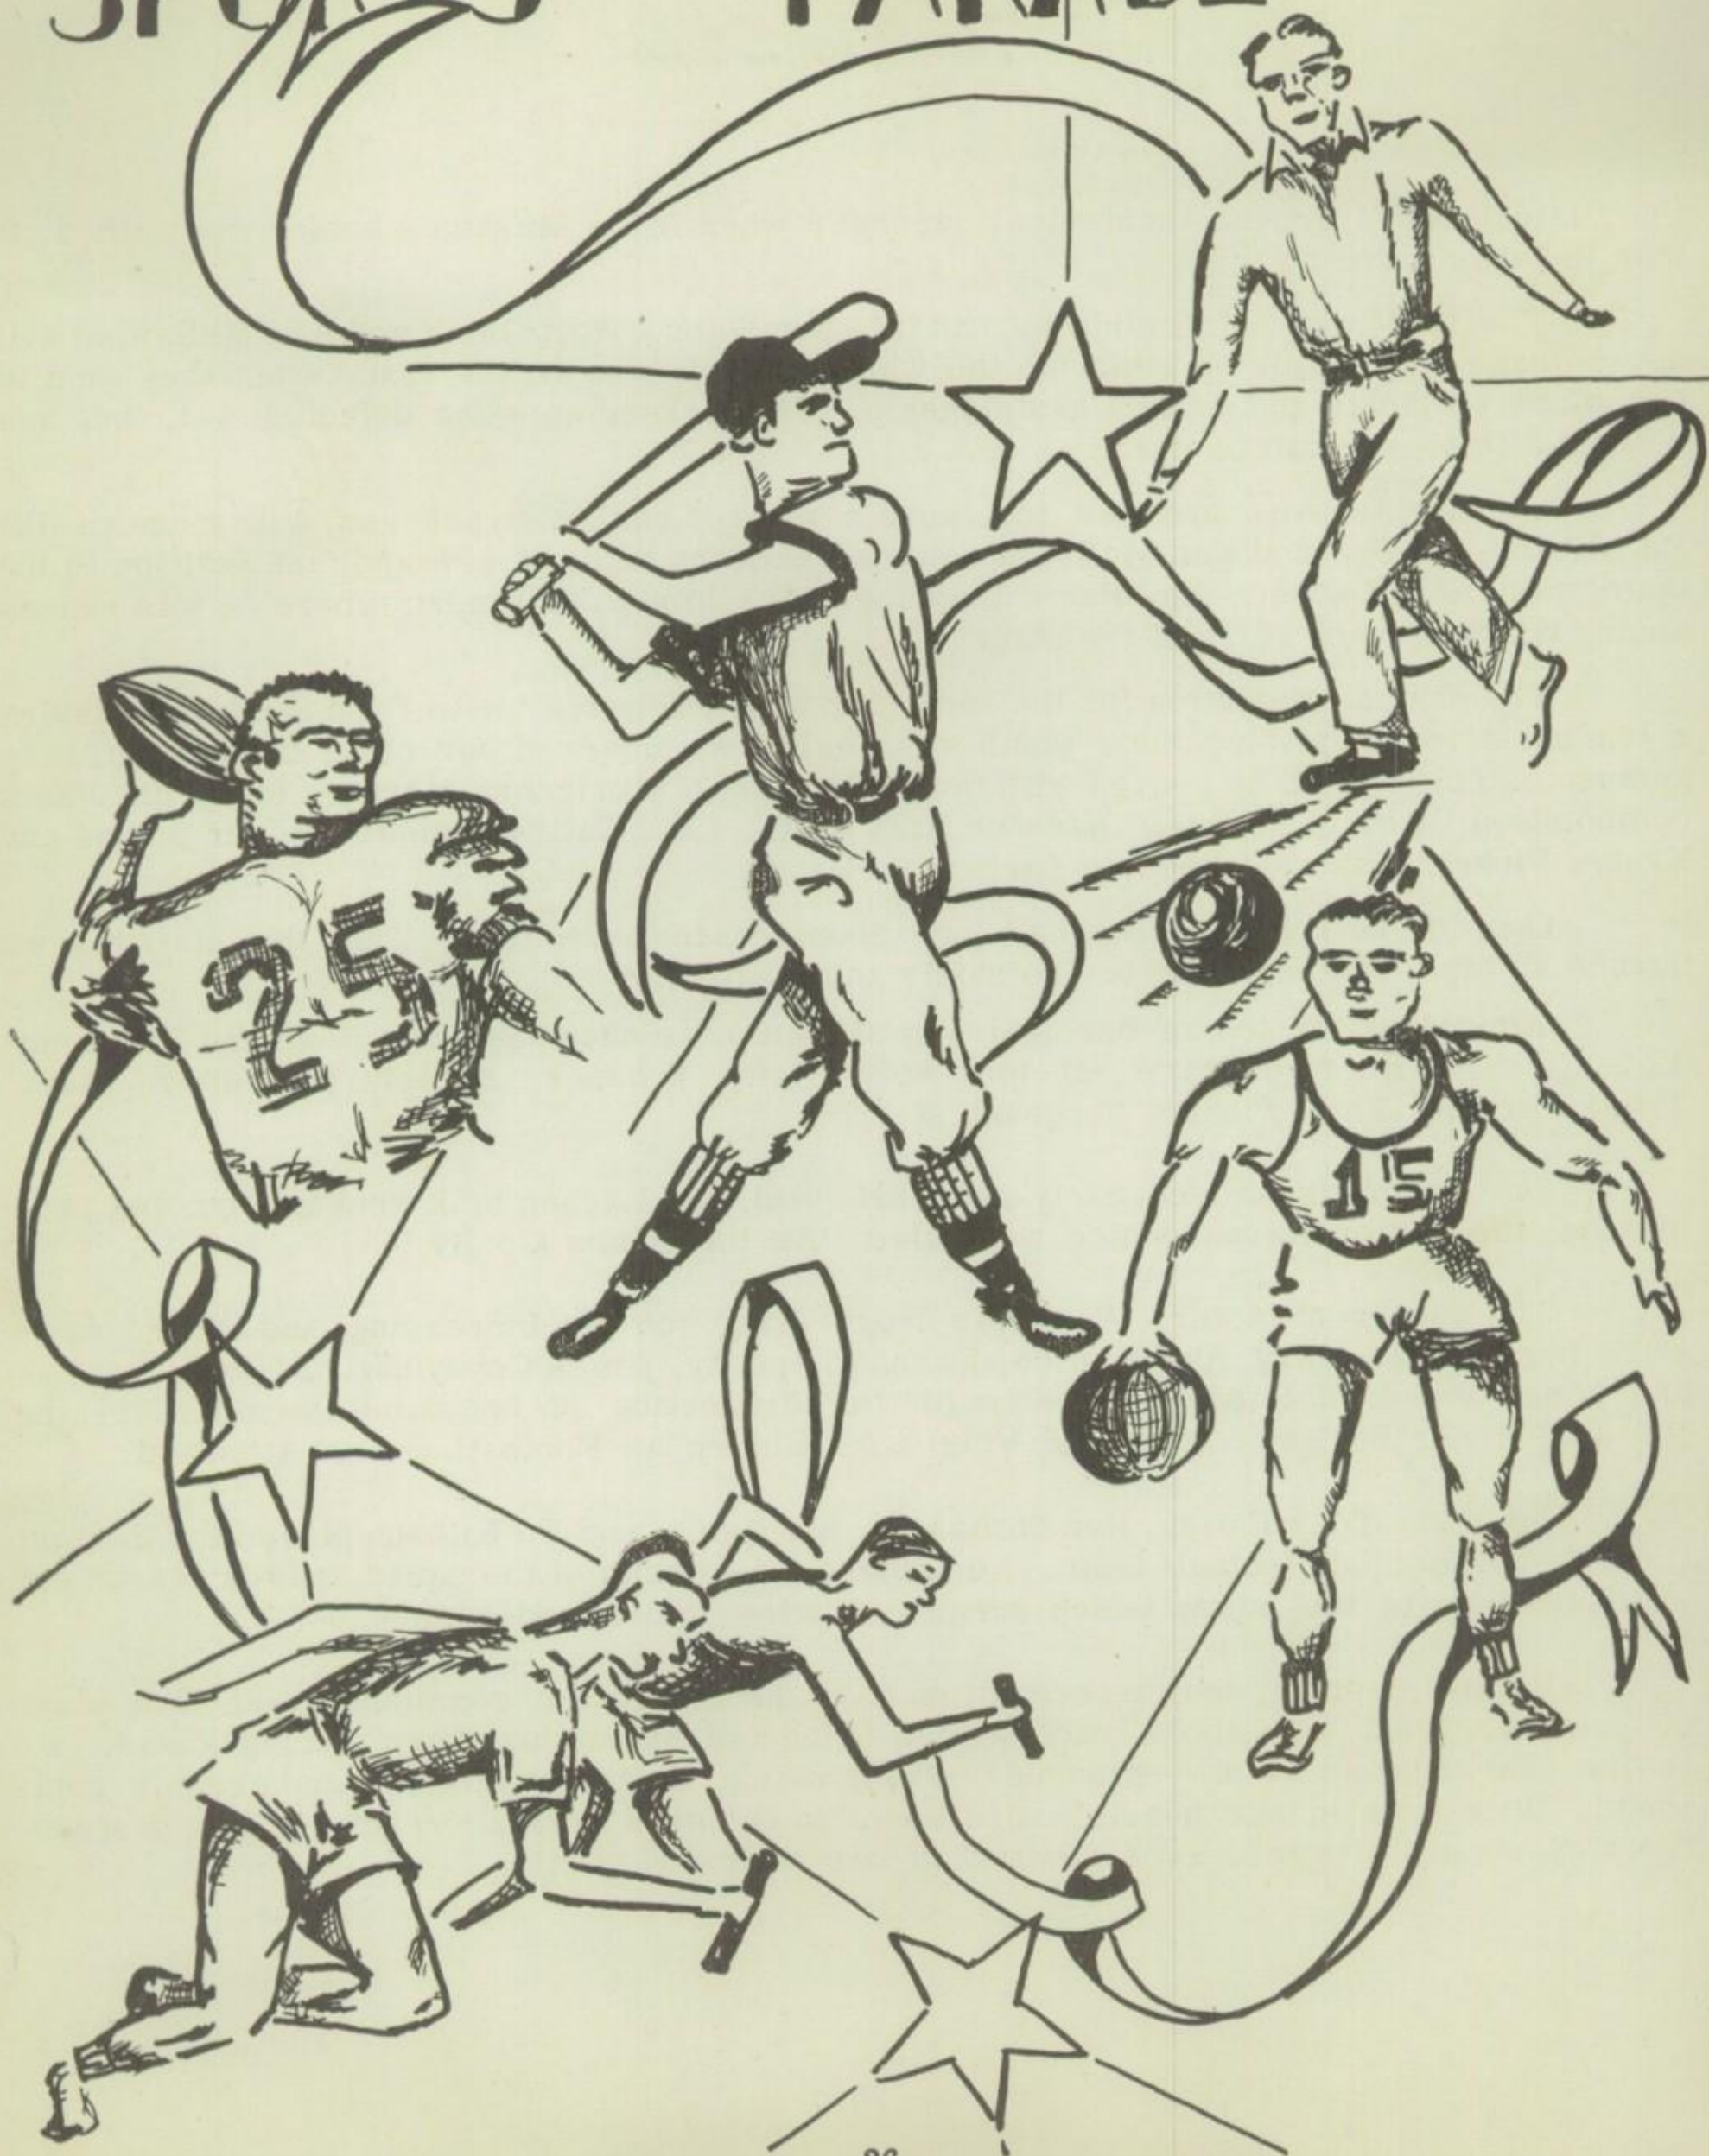

The pace went faster. Work was progressing, fun was increasing, and more honors were being won. Mary Ann Somich, Johanna Leposky, James Czyzynski, Dolores Bencina and James Pae completed their year with the distinction of becoming members of the National Honor Society. Josephine Volpi was elected as Football Queen Attendant.

Jim Pae, Tony Fatica, Ken McIlvaine, Jim Unick, and Ed Kilbane played for the last time on the Bomber football team. Ed Kilbane, co-captain of the squad had his season cut short because of the injury which occurred in the Collinwood game.

Pictures, prom, senior recognition day, and finally, our commencement. The class of January, 1952, now looks back with a twinge of nostalgia. Then, facing ahead, we realize that although we have reached one destination, there are now new and greater goals ahead. With faith in our hearts and dreams in our eyes we shall reach our new destinations by steady progress ever upward on our stairway of life.

SPORTS

Champions All

No longer are girls called "tomboys" when they take an active interest in sports. Today each girl has the same opportunity as any boy to create and develop athletic skills and become recognized as one of the finest athlete's in the world, by representing the U. S. A. in the Olympic games, the height of athletic competition.

In our senior class, several girls stand out as the athletes of our class.

One out of every six girls in the entire graduation class is a gym leader. Six of these gym leaders are in Miss Lacy's homeroom and three in Miss Markus's. They are Patsy Dreier, President of Gym Leaders, Rae Davis, Johanna Leposky, Sally Riley, Betty Schaser, Mary Ann Somich, Loretta Brandt, Sach Fujamoto and Shirley Schafer.

Miss Lacy's girls are the proud holders of the Blue and Gold Girls Intramural Trophy. For the past three years they have never dropped a game, basketball or volleyball, to any other homeroom.

Trouncing Mrs. Wilson's 10B's by a score of 17-2 they gained the tenth grade volleyball title. In the 10A, Miss Lacy's girls won a 29-19 victory over Miss Maher's 11B's. In the 11B Volleyball opener they walloped Miss Perkin's homeroom 40-20 and later chalked up another victory 30-17 over Miss Lackey's 11A homeroom. Miss Lacy's girls have never been tied or defeated.

Representing Cleveland Forest Hills Tennis Club, Patsy Dreier went to Detroit to participate in the Tri-City tennis matches being held there. Patsy's skill is not only confined to the tennis courts, however, for her speed and natural ability is shown on the basketball court as well. Patsy captained a girl's basketball team, named the "Wolfgals," to victory in the '50-'51 season in the A. A. U. and the Daisy Mae basketball tournaments. She also distinguished herself by winning a championship cup for foul shooting, in the Daisy Mae Tournament, hooping 9 out of 10 tries. Betty Schaser also won a gold statue for the foul shooting contest held in the A. A. U. Tournament, netting 13 baskets out of 15 tries. Patsy Dreier and Betty Schaser helped lead their team in points, both averaging 20 points per game.

Ruth Stevens, another member of Miss Lacy's championship squad, took part in the local Junior Olympics competition and, as a member of Sandy's Athletic Club. Surviving these trials she traveled to Berea for the championship. In the track meet, "Stevie" represented Cleveland in the hurdles. People from all over the country were there, including our own G. G. Dales, former East track coach. After winning first place, "Stevie" was presented with a headpiece made of olive leaves, a plant and a bronze medal, similar to those given to Olympics stars. From Berea, she traveled to Chicago and New York for other meets. At New York, she came in fourth and received a medal as a member of an outstanding relay team.

Thus, sports and physical development have had their beginnings at East and, even more important, the girls themselves have found joy and benefit from them.

Foot Ball

To our all-American trunk driver
Ed Prelock.

The slap of leather, the clang of the blocking machine, pains of calisthenics and the sore bruises of scrimmages were first felt by Ed Kilbane, Tony Fatica and Jim Pae three years ago. These three tenth graders braved that summer's blistering practice sessions.

For their first year, they understudied the big juniors and seniors. Of the three, "Red" Kilbane showed the most promise, earning a first-string defensive line backer spot. Tony was doing a fine job as an up and coming guard while Jim spent most of his time at the tackle spot.

After a season of exciting thrills the boys hung up their pads and cleats until the following fall when more practice sessions marked the beginning of a new football season. "Big" Jim, Tony and "Red" repeated again. This year Ed was shifted to left tackle and "Big" Jim went to the backfield. The best news came with the announcement that Tony Fatica was to pilot the team for the '50 season.

Under the leadership of Tony, the Bombers opened the season with a 19-19 tie with the Shaw Cardinals and gave us a thriller at Mansfield.

Ken McIlvaine worked with the Jay Vees for a few weeks in 1950 to get into shape, and then he became the fourth member of our class to make the varsity and strengthen the backfield.

When the final game came to an end, our three stand-by's had earned letters, "Mac" just missing by a few quarters.

Now came our big senior year. "Red" Kilbane now was a full time end, Tony still played guard and "Mac" was the full-time left half. Jim Unick, another member of our class, made it five from the 12A class to earn a football letter. Jim played line backer on defense and alternated at offensive fullback with Jim Pae. Ed Kilbane was elected co-captain of the squad and proved worthy of the honor. However, in the Collinwood game, Ed suffered a broken wrist and had to drop off the team for the rest of the season. In his absence, Tony was re-elected and carried on in true East High fashion.

Our last year was now complete, and the football records showed four wins and four losses for the Blue Bombers.

Basket Ball

In the cold January of '49, a group of 10B boys eagerly answered a notice posted by T. J. Corbo for new Jay Vee basketball players. Of the group that tried out, six of our boys showed enough ability to be kept on the squad. Wally Alps, our 6 foot 5 inch center, was immediately placed on the first string and soon showed that he deserved the honor. Tony Fischer, Jim Pae, Walt Guzik, Jim Unick and Ed Kilbane were other members of our class on the court.

All told, the boys played in only five games, but the experience and spirit gained was worth a full season's practice.

These same boys came out for the Jay Vee team again as 10A's. Alps had dropped out of school to join the Navy, so Jim Pae and Walt Guzik alternated in the center spot, while Kilbane, Unick and Fischer made commendable guards.

Ed Kilbane was named captain of the team and, as the season progressed, proved to be high point man of the quintet.

The following year the schedule looked rougher than ever. Our "old faithfuls" tried out again and "Big Jim" and Tony succeeded in landing berths on the varsity squad.

The Blue Bombers of the hardwood opened the season with a heartbreaking loss to Bedford's Bearcats 61-62 but bounced back a week later with a 44-32 victory over the Green Waves from Holy Name.

Tony and Jim, ~~proved~~ big helps in these and other games throughout the season.

With another year of experience and more competition under their belts, the boys put away their "tennies" and began to look forward to next November and another chance to "shoot two" for old East High.

Track

No sooner was basketball season over than the school began to talk about track and baseball, and our class was no exception.

When George G. Dales, coach of the thin clads, put up the notice for trackmen, several of our cinder-minded boys turned out to answer his call.

Wally Alps, Ed Kilbane and Jim Pae made the grade in the first year and were seen as the backbone of the future track squads. Mr. Dales was pleased with the performance of his new sophomores and learned from the beginning that he could depend on them.

When our second track season rolled around, Mr. Dales looked forward to a better year in track. Most of his boys had gained experience in competition the year before. Ed Kilbane had already shown promise as a distance man, while Jim Pae had rounded out as the top quarter miler on the team. However, it was a big blow to the team to learn that Wally Alps had dropped out of school to join the Navy.

That year, Morris Ramsey and Curtis Golston joined the members of our class on the squad. Both showed promise as sprint men.

East became "the spoilers" of the Senate that year, taking points in events that observers never thought we could get. Boys from our class had played a big part in the team's success.

During the off season, the cinder squad welcomed the news that Dick Korkan, a distance man from East Tech, was to join the team the next season. With this news Mr. Dales decided to make a few changes. "Red" Kilbane was shifted to the hurdles and "Big" Jim was slated to run the half.

The new addition, "Nuts" Korkan, was to run the mile, and Golston earned a berth on the light-weight relay team. Now we were ready for "that big year."

In preseason meets all our boys lived up to what was expected of them. Kilbane became the team "work horse" running the maximum number of events per man in every meet. Korkan brought his mile time down to 4:4, and "Big" Jim breezed through his half in 2:02. These boys also made up two parts of the two-mile relay team which rated third in the Senate.

When the meet of all meets - the District Finals - came around, the pressure was really on. Any boy placing first, second or third in his event was eligible for the State Meet at Columbus. Again we showed our colors out in front. "Big" Jim scored six points with a first in the half-mile and "Nuts" took four more by coming in second in the mile. At Columbus, running against the best track men in the state, Jim placed third in his event for East's only points.

That concluded the season and three years of track in which our class played a vital part in the success of East High's Sports picture.

Base Ball

Though baseball was only two years old at East, Coach Earl J. Ocker's aggregation had already established themselves as a team to be feared. When March rolled around and practice began, several of our boys tried out with the sluggers. However, with the competition of experience to contend with, we failed to place a man on the squad.

Still our first baseball season was as thrilling as anyone could ask for. The squad pushed sixty-four runs across the plate and finished in second place with a 9-3 record. The highlight of the season came in our second game with Benedictine when Ray Soeder pitched the first no-hit no-run game for the Blue Bombers. The three runs we scored were more than sufficient for the fine performance by Ray.

When March returned the next year, the new squad looked better than ever. Talk of the championship began at once, and we started to wonder if the boys could do it. This year our class was represented on the squad by one boy, Walt Guzik. Although he had not earned a starting role as a pitcher, he aroused a lot of interest, and we had a feeling he would prove an important factor in the future.

As soon as the season started we were sure the team would do as predicted, take the championship. The Bombers roared through the first half of the season with a 6-0 record and entered the District Playoffs. Once again they came out on top by whipping John Marshall 9-0. This victory gave them a berth in the Regional Playoff, but they bowed before a powerful Akron team 1-0. In the second half they dropped three, but still managed to win the city championship, by defeating St. Ignatius 11-5.

The following year, Ken McIlvaine joined Wally Guzik on the diamond squad and we prepared for another great season of baseball. Wally proved to be the best hurler on the team and opened the season with a 6-0 victory over Central. With this as a start the squad began to roar again ending the first half with 7 wins, 1 loss and a tie. They went on to take the regionals and the district title. This earned them a chance to enter the quarter finals in the State Championships. "Big Wally" was called upon to pitch this all important game against Linden McKinly of Columbus. Although they put up a fight all the way, the power packed Linden team hammered out 4 runs while we could score only one.

When we returned to Senate competition, the pressure was on and we were nosed out of our second championship by Benedictine. But, regardless of the outcome, we were all proud of the achievements of the team and were mostly proud of Wally and Ken our Champions among Champions."

To the best "M.F."
I hope you live up to it. Don't get in any trouble and help away from East. If you come to school in give years look me up.
